SPORTS

with JOHNNY MARTIN

Hurrah for Tommy Aaron, the long-time bridesmaid of the PGA tour. Although he was never the personality plus that some of today's stars are, he has had a very solid golf game throughout his career. But it took a victory in last week's 1973 Masters Tournament to convince the golf world of this fact.

Aaron, who has finished second more times than Jack Nicklaus has finished first, shot his five-under-par score over the rain-drenched and very difficult Augusta National Golf Club. Now those golf fans who do not follow the sport that closely may or may not know it, but Augusta is considered one of the stiffest tests among the courses in the world. And though some pros remarked that the course played easier because of its dampness, most of them believed the contrary. At any rate, five-under-par at Augusta compares with fifteenth or sixteen under on most of the four courses.

This, I'm sure, has been said a million times by a million different writers, but it's the character of the Masters, the antebellum clubhouse, the course itself, and even the players add to this atmosphere. At no other tournament do you see the great old-timers test it up with the younger stars to compete for the cash and add to gallery attraction. Stars of the past in the person of Gene Sarazen, Sam Snead (if you can call him an old-timer), Ralph Guldahl, and others play in the tournament annually, representative of the long-standing importance of the Masters.

This week, the four steps in Pensacola for the Monsanto Open. Although this is the only opportunity for most local fans to see professional golf at its best, it is always a somewhat anti-climactic event. The Monsanto suffers every year from being stuck between Masters and Tournament of Champions.

I have met the qualifications for a Real Estate Broker and now have my license. I would appreciate the opportunity to sell your property for you. Especially farm land.

Junior Black And Gold Game

The Elba High School Junior Black-Gold intra-squad football game was held Tuesday, April 3, with the game ending in a 22-22 tie. A damp field hindered the passing attacks of both teams, but offense was still the order of the night.

Johnny Dress put the Black team ahead with a dazzling 60-yard run on the second play of the game. Dyess scored again in the first quarter on a 40-yard run. Russ Cash scored the final touchdown on a 3-yard quarterback sneak.

Wyn Westbrook scored first for the Gold on a 20-yard yard line in the first quarter. He also ran 65 yards for the second Gold touchdown in the first quarter. Ken Martin ended the scoring for the Gold on a 60-yard run in the third quarter.

Elba Wins Rifle Matches

On March 29, 1973, a JROTC small-bore rifle match between Elba and Greenville took place at the Elba JROTC gym. The team winners for Elba were: Willie Flowers (213), Keith Hornsby (213), Joe Morrow (230), and John Waddell (227). Elba won the match by a team score of 882 to Greenville's 745.

Elba High School's rifle team won a six-team Third Army JROTC small bore rifle match at Andalusia on April 2, 1973. Elba won with a score of 873 points. Cadet Sgt. Richard Clark's individual score of 236 was the highest score in the match. Other teams in the match were Andalusia and Greenville, Alabama; Baker High School and Crestview High School from Okaloosa County, Florida; and Tate High School of Pensacola, Florida. Crestview was runner-up with a score of 870.

F.F.A. Holds Meeting

The FFA held its regular monthly meeting, Wednesday, March 29, in the Vocational Building. The successful termination of the candy sale was discussed and prizes awarded to the high salesmen. A cocktail in honor of the group with the highest sales per salesman was awarded to the 8th grade salesmen, who averaged over $26.00 sales per person.

A salesman from the Lincoln Electric Company was scheduled to arrive during the week and discuss the sale of welding machines.

The dairy judging team was commended on the expert job done at the county eliminations, and the chapter voted to pay their way to the area eliminations.

Then the meeting was adjourned. Meeting May 4, May 8, and May 11.

Science Club Holds Meeting

On March 28, the Science Club of Elba High School met for its monthly meeting. The meeting was called to order by Jack Smith, president. The guest speaker was introduced by Jim Williams. Mr. Tom Cassaday, our Coffee County Extension Agent, spoke on Science and Agriculture. He told us of our county's agricultural interest. It opens jobs for our people. Coffee County is one of the top counties in the state of Alabama, with high agricultural income. He told us the importance of keeping our river resources clean, and our soil clean and he showed us how much we should appreciate America.

A group of Science Club members will be leaving to go to the meeting was closed until next month's meeting.

Wake Up And Learn

"This is such a boring class is a familiar phrase around this time of the year. School is almost out and the weather is warming up with the outdoors offering more excitement than the inside of a classroom."

This is a time of dreaming. We think of what we will do this summer and make plans and preparations for fulfilling these plans. But we are still in school and we want to use the rest of the time for meaningful purposes. One reason that classes are boring, this and any other time of the year, is overworked classes with such a wide range of capabilities among the students. It is hard, if not impossible, for one teacher to keep the interest of 40 to 50 students while trying not to leave the ones who have trouble understanding everything easily and immediately and still challenging the ones who quickly catch on. Until these crowded situations can be overcome, it would pay everyone concerned to come to class prepared, willing to contribute to the lesson, and ready to be patient with those who lag behind. Class discussions can be beneficial and interesting if everyone who has something worthwhile to contribute will do so, and no one will just talk and show off to waste time. A classroom is a place for full concentration. The mind should be trained to give full attention to the one who is before the teacher. A wandering mind and tongue can interfere with one's learning.

As the year draws to a close let's not relax and be overtaken too easily by spring fever, but work even harder to give what it is our privilege to receive... an education.

What If . . .

We didn't have tests but every 6 weeks asked Diane for a date. Spec and Prof broke up. All the teachers would stop talking and let you do anything. We didn't have homework the whole year.

A certain girl had a date with Donny Osmond. All the girls at Z.C. were married.

All teachers were put off the subject as easily as Mrs. Lee Sharon were 6 ft. tall. Coach Ted had blond hair. Darlene and Diane never had a fuss.

Kim could get what she wanted. Girls could wear shorts to school.

Nathan could close his mouth for an hour.

Chella could be quiet for one day.

Mrs. Lee weighed 250 lbs.

We could call the teachers by their first names.

Drella had a steady boyfriend. Barbara and Lynn were in school every day.

Cindy dated that secret admirer and a big romance developed. The Troy Skating Rink closed.

Spring were here today. The Rebels tried to take the year line once again. This time the Rebels were unable to contain the Cats as Chris Wilson scored from the three to give Arton a 6 to 0 lead. Z. C. once again got the ball with 3:23 left in the quarter. The Rebels began their march only to see it die out on the yard line of Arton. The quarter ended with Arton being the winner of the Jamboree.

The second quarter saw Arton take on Coffee Springs. Arton punted deep into Coffee Springs territory after failing to move the ball beyond Coffee Springs' 40 yard line. Coffee Springs fumbled in the end zone but Arton recovered and held a 2 to 0 lead. After the ball exchanged hands several times, the quarter ended with Arton being the winner 2 to 0.

The third quarter saw Coffee Springs score quickly as they scored on a 65 yard run. Coffee Springs led 6 to 0. Arton failed and Coffee Springs led 14 to 0. Clayton came right back to tie the score to 6. The point after failed. With the score tied, Coffee Springs came back again to score and go ahead 12 to 6. Coffee Springs went for two and won the third quarter 20 to 6.

The fourth quarter saw the winners, Zion Chapel and Arton.

Alabama A & M Signs Two From Z. C.

Alabama A & M has signed Eddie Bell and Robert Boyd to four year scholarships in football. Zion Chapel has been able to produce winning seasons for the last four years and these two young men have been a big part of it.

Robert Boyd who played for the Rebels this year saw action both ways and averaged playing most every minute of every game. Eddie Bell played last year as a junior and was able to watch from the sidelines this past season. Because of his ability and speed, Alabama A & M saw enough to sign him even after his being out a year. In this past season, Robert, a halfback and fullback, carried the ball 123 times for 665 yards for an average of 5.5 per carry. He was also in on 8 fumbles a game. He was voted the best back of the Year by the Zion Chapel Rebel team. During the season of 1972, the Rebels saw Bell carry the ball for 1080 yards in 100 carries giving him an average 10.8 per carry. He was voted the Most Valuable Player by the team.

Coach John Sanders said, "Both of these young men are outstanding football players and are well liked by all the students. I feel that they will be assets to Alabama A & M."

Dr. J. H. Sanders, Jr., President of the Zion Chapel Rebel team, said, "I feel that they will be assets to Alabama A & M."

WEED CONTROL
Annual Bluegrass is causing a lot of trouble in lawns. It comes up where the regular grass has been thinned out. Annual Bluegrass makes seed-head almost at the same time it comes up. It has little, light colored seedheads and is easy to identify. 2, 4-D and regular weed killers will not do any good on this grass. It dies out later in the spring. However, it will come back up thicker than ever the following year if control measures are not taken.

Granular Bala applied in late September and early October will do an excellent job of controlling not only annual bluegrass but other weeds as well. It will prevent lots of different types of weed seed from germinating the following year.

PESTICIDE SAFETY
Friday, I was at a pesticide education meeting in Ozark. Several specialists from the Auburn University staff participated in the meeting. Talmadge Balch of the University staff said that entirely too many well intentioned people put left over insecticides and pesticides in soft drink bottles. Children is far too many cases, assume this is leftover drink and readily consume it.

I am guilty of having done similar things with materials at my home, but this is very dangerous. Your own children may know to leave it alone, but other children visiting do not know what it is therein lies the danger.

We are using thousands of gallons of all types of herbicides and pesticides each year in Coffee County. Let me urge 1st Dean Bond about the time problem we are having. Bond mentioned some things about liming that make sense to me, and I mention them here in the hope that we can do some of these things in Coffee County this year. (1) Apply lime if possible in September, October, November or December. (2) Lime in the future is going to be uniform and is going to be a high quality product. (3) Research shows that lime-applied in the past has been in vain. It is more profitable.

"Thinking of the problem of getting lime applied, there were only 10 days in March of 1972 when lime could be applied. This does not count the days of the weekend. There were even fewer days in March of 1973 when it could be applied. This points out the necessity of getting lime spread in the fall of the year.

VA Cautions Veterans On Homebuying

The Veterans Administration mind of the spring homebuying season, cautions veterans, with thoughts of selling homes purchased with G. I. home loans, to get "release of liability" from VA if the loan is assumed by the buyer.

Loan Guaranty officials explained that unless a veteran asks for and receives a "release from liability" from the VA office which guaranteed his home loan, he will be liable for payment in the event of default by the purchaser.

Getting a "release from liability" is simple, officials said, provided certain conditions are met. The veteran's loan must be current.

The purchaser must agree to assume the veteran's liabilities.

The prospective purchaser must be a good credit risk about two or three months and has a mid, cheddar flavor and firm body. Mellow cheese is cured from four to seven months and has a stronger cheddar flavor and a smooth flexible body.

After opening, cheese, be sure to wrap it tightly in foil, wax paper or plastic to prevent drying. Cheese not only is a milk substitute, but serves as a good source for meat substitute.

HAPPINESS
How happy are you with your present situation? Think about it. It is important, because as a popular song tells us, today is the first day of the rest of your life. If you aren't happy about the way you have spent your life, that's the past and you can't relive it. But the future is yours to do with as you will.

You can make your future more rewarding by setting some goals and working toward them. All of us need goals to work toward. They give life direction, purpose, and meaning. Goals don't have to center on fame or riches. They can be close to home targets for you to reach. You might learn a new craft or skill; spend more time with your marriage partner; your child or your parents; learn more about human relationships; or help a worthwhile organization.

The rest of your life begins today. Take a few minutes right now to think about your goals. What are you aiming for? What do you hope to accomplish? Are your goals realistic? How can they be attained? Thoughtfully answer these questions will enable you to live a more meaningful life.

CHEESE
The U. S. grade mark level on cheddar cheese can tell you a lot about the cheese. A label tells the type of cheese—mild, mellow or sharp; the age; weight; the name and address of the manufacturer; the packer or distributor; and if the quality of the cheese meets U. S. standards.

To select a cheese, you must understand the types of curing. Mild cheese is cured for about two or three months and has a mid, cheddar flavor and firm body. Mellow cheese is cured from four to seven months and has a stronger cheddar flavor and a smooth flexible body.

After opening, cheese, be sure to wrap it tightly in foil, wax paper or plastic to prevent drying. Cheese not only is a milk substitute, but serves as a good source for meat substitute.

Things That Bring Back Memories

By Faye Holliday

Have you ever run across something that sent an instant remembrance through your senses, and brought back some pleasant scene, or sad occasion in your life?

A certain smell for instance, can send me immediately back to some dinner my grandma was cooking -- I can visualize the scene -- maybe all of us around the table or children out playing and the scent of fresh pork cooking, waiting through the house; or a chocolate-cake smell spilling out into the yard, tickling our tummies.

But the scent of rutabagas cooking to this day brings back the memory of one day when I was sick and home from school. I remember I went all through the house to get away from that aroma which just seemed to follow me and intensify my nausea.

The clean, fresh smell that pierces the air on a clear spring day often brings to mind the times when the Cherry Laurel tree was blooming. These were the days when Mr. Winter had just about given over to Lady

Spring and the tree was wrapped in tiny white clusters of blooms, with bees hovering about. Their buzzing, droning sound draped the cool air with an almost hypnotic spell, as we played in the warm, lazy sun.

Freshly-turned dirt with its heavy, earthy smell transforms me into a barefoot child, walking behind the mule and plow, amazed at the way the heavy blade split the ground to make way for the miracle of seed-time and harvest.

The smell of freshly washed clothes, blowing and flapping in the sun and wind sends me momentarily back to my mother's clothesline, with the family's clothes hanging there to dry. Then I remember she used to sun the beds and bedclothes (and the wearing clothes). Most people had special racks on which they laid their mattresses. How fresh and sun-sweet they smelled, all fat and fluffy from the wind and sunshine, and so inviting to tired, played-out bodies.

But one thing recently really gave me an inside peek at myself in earlier years. I got down some old books I had in high school (we bought our books), and some of the things on the inside covers included: "Check-a-luck", and "Jugernaut"; a notation that there are 66 books in the Bible; two rose lipstick blots; and my brother's scribbled signature.

I've saved many of my children's books, school papers, art, etc., and from time to time I get out some of it and take long, wistful looks, wishing to re-live some of those days. But, then I remember that those days have been lived and are gone, and we enjoy the days in which we live at their present ages.

But, someday they can look back at those memories and get a fleeting reflection of what they were like "during those so-so" decades, many of them without names (although I did find my husband's name and address just after he went into the Army); a list of movie producers -- Larry Zanes, Samuel Goldwyn, Cecil B. DeMille; some of Glenn Miller's beautiful soul-stirring tunes -- "In The Mood," "Moonlight Serenade," "Tuxedo Junction," "Little Brown Jug"; some other popular band leaders at that time -- Ray Anthony, Paul Weston, Hugo Winterhalter; ball scores; the address of the motel in New Orleans where we went on our Senior trip; two words I must have liked -- "Check-a-luck", and "Jugernaut"; a notation that there are 66 books in the Bible; two rose lipstick blots; and my brother's scribbled signature.

But, someday they can look back at those memories and get a fleeting reflection of what they were like "during those so-so" decades, many of them without names (although I did find my husband's name and address just after he went into the Army); a list of movie producers -- Larry Zanes, Samuel Goldwyn, Cecil B. DeMille; some of Glenn Miller's beautiful soul-stirring tunes -- "In The Mood," "Moonlight Serenade," "Tuxedo Junction," "Little Brown Jug"; some other popular band leaders at that time -- Ray Anthony, Paul Weston, Hugo Winterhalter; ball scores; the address of the motel in New Orleans where we went on our Senior trip; two words I must have liked -- "Check-a-luck", and "Jugernaut"; a notation that there are 66 books in the Bible; two rose lipstick blots; and my brother's scribbled signature.

I've saved many of my children's books, school papers, art, etc., and from time to time I get out some of it and take long, wistful looks, wishing to re-live some of those days. But, then I remember that those days have been lived and are gone, and we enjoy the days in which we live at their present ages.

Elba Study Club Holds Monthly Meeting

The farm cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Fox Branson, "The Chalet", was the scene of the Elba Study Club's March meeting. Mrs. J. M. Kinney served as co-hostess.

Miss Joannette Garrett led the members in the reading of the Club collect, after which there was a short business meeting. Mrs. J. M. Kinney reported on the Prayer Breakfast to be at the State Convention in Enterprise. The Club voted to share the expense of the breakfast.

A contribution is being sent to the Southeastern Health Center Camp to help with expenses of camp at Humming Hills this summer. Mrs. T. D. Kendrick announced the topic for

National Library Week To Be Observed

National Library Week is being observed by the Elba Public Library. Visitors are welcome to see the new books added and to learn of the summer programs planned.

Forty three new juvenile books have been added from the Trail Regional Library. A number of new fiction books have been added. Some of these are "The Shadow of the Light" by Victoria Holt, "An Afternoon Walk" by Dorothy Edin and many more.

ELBA ROTC CADETS UNDERGO INSPECTION

The 1972-73 "Annual Formal Inspection" of Elba High Schools of J ROTC Battalion was held on April 5, 1973. The inspection team from the University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg, Miss., was headed by Col. Guy Groff, Professor of Military Science at the University. Two captains and one sergeant, members of Col. Groff's Senior ROTC Staff, made up the balance of the inspection team. Cadet Sgt. Vann Vaughan, J ROTC Color Guard Commander, briefed on the activities of the color guard. Cadet 2nd Lt. Danny Smith, drill team commander, briefly explained the activities, training and purpose of the drill team. 1st Lt. Rita Marler, J ROTC Sponsor, gave a brief talk concerning sponsor activities and the sponsor program. Cadet 1st Lt. Mike Bush covered the organization of J ROTC at Elba, and Cadet LTC. James Morrow, Battalion Commander, gave an overall review summary of the J ROTC program in its second year at Elba.

Following the briefings, Cadet Companies, Color Guard and Sponsors were inspected in formation by the inspecting party. In addition to the inspection in formation, cadets were questioned on academic subjects and leadership material covered during the academic year. At the conclusion of the inspection, Col. Groff gave a short critique of the inspection for J ROTC Instructors, School Officials, and Cadet Leaders. Final results of the inspection will not be known until official word is received from Headquarters Third United States Army, Fort McPherson, Georgia, in Atlanta.

Kinston Opposes Unit System Without Vote

The City Council of the Town of Kinston passed a resolution last Monday evening going on record as opposing the "Unit System" of road maintenance without a vote of the people. The resolution and an explanatory letter were sent to Representative Douglas Easters. Copies were sent to Governor George Wallace, Senator L. L. Dozier and to this newspaper.

The resolution, which was first proposed in a council meeting on April 2, noted that "The City Council of the Town of Kinston is critically aware of the efforts being made and of the problems involved in bringing into reality a 'unit system' of road maintenance for Coffee County. . . after careful deliberation the City Council of the Town of Kinston feels that the 'unit system' of road maintenance should be put to a vote of all the people of Coffee County as previously promised by its elected state representative. . . The City Council of the Town of Kinston does oppose any local bill approving a 'Unit System' of road maintenance for Coffee County without a vote of the people of Coffee County. . . The accompanying letter to Representative Easters noted that the resolution was self-explanatory, but again mentioned that "we are opposed to the Unit System of road maintenance without a vote of the people as previously promised. . . Closing the letter was the following: 'We sincerely trust that you will take this into consideration before passing or attempting passage of any such bill as now proposed.' It was signed by Kinston Mayor, Bill Whitehurst.

Mrs. Ringsdorf Named Woman Of Achievement

At a dinner-banquet Monday, April 9, the Business and Professional Women's Club of Elba honored Mrs. Mary F. Ringsdorf as their Woman of Achievement for 1973. Seventy people paid tribute to Mrs. Ringsdorf at the Elba Country Club. Upon arrival the guests were served punch by Mrs. Mable Lawless and Miss Jane Morrow. Miss Cindy Stokes played music. The club President, Mrs. Bettye Adkinson welcomed the guests and Mrs. Mable Lawless gave the invocation. Then Mrs. Myrtle Sellers led in the Pledge to the Flag. Mrs. Adkinson introduced the past Woman of Achievement who were in attendance. They were: Mrs. Sara Rainer, Mrs. Mary Downing, Mrs. Bessie Braswell, Miss Emma Farris, and Mrs. Althea Prescott. A moment of silent prayer was observed in honor of the deceased. Mrs. Ringsdorf, last year's winner, who is ill in an Ozark hospital. During the dinner, Mrs. Corrine Lowery, Program Chairman for the evening, led in the presentation of the program. Mrs. Nellie Martin gave a past history of Mrs. Ringsdorf whose two sons, Dr. Marshall Ringsdorf of Birmingham, and "Captain Ben" of Elba, were present. A third son, Fraser, who resides in Turkey, wrote a letter of tribute to his mother. This letter was read by Mrs. Joan Moore. Mrs. Mary Alice Wise told of Mrs. Ringsdorf's deep abiding faith in God. Mrs. Wayne Boswell spoke to the group about Mrs. Ringsdorf's patriotism and love of her country. Mrs. Adkinson then presented the honoree with a lovely bouquet of flowers and the trophy which goes with this honor. Mrs. Luna Dell Ring dismissed the gathering by reading the Club Collect.

Dickinson Will Visit In Elba Next Monday

Congressman William L. "Bill" Dickinson (R-Ala.) is planning a week-long visit (April 20-27) to Alabama's Second District during the Easter Congressional Recess. He announced from his Washington office today.

Kathy Smith Wins District Sewing Honor

Recognizing sewing as a very special form of a woman's creative expression, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in cooperation with Spades County Patterns, sponsored a sewing contest - "Ideal Costume for the Clubwoman's Travel Wardrobe" - for GFWC members. Entries were made and modeled by individual club members, and all were made from Spades Famous Designer Patterns. The contest opened July 1, 1972 and closed March 1, 1973. Judging on the local district and state level was done by April 10, 1973. National competition will take place May 10, 1973, in Milford, New Jersey. The national winner will be announced and her garment displayed at the GFWC annual convention June 3-7, 1973 in Baltimore, Maryland.

Kathy chose easy-care polyester knit and designed it in a comfortable pants ensemble. The easy fit jacket featured a front zipper and top-stitching for superb detailing. Silver rimmed covered buttons, teamed with straight leg pants completed the outfit.

Mrs. Jack Padgett is chairman of the Arts Department for the Three Seasons Study Club.

Assembly Of God Plans Annual Easter Services

The Elba First Assembly of God Church will have an Easter Service and Giant Egg Hunt on Easter Sunday, April 22, at 10:30 a.m. at Tiger Stadium, behind Elba High School. Guest speaker will be Reverend Vaude V. Lambert. Over 1,000 eggs will be hidden for the youth to find, and there will be prizes for the 5 prize eggs.

Over 300 people attended this event last year, and the sponsoring church hopes for a much bigger participation this year. Billy J. Johnson is pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, and invites everyone to come out to these services and bring all the kids to Elba's "biggest Easter Egg Hunt."

Advisory Group To Hold Meet Monday Night

The Coffee County Planning Advisory Committee, formerly called by the late Louie Edwards, will meet April 23 in Elba at 7:00 p.m. The leadership of this group is being assumed by Mr. Philip Martin, a dairy farmer in Coffee County.

The committee is continuing their review of the Comprehensive Planning Study. Scheduled for discussion at this meeting are the elements of Land Use, Housing, and Health Services. The discussion of these topics will conclude the committee's review of the study draft. Public is invited to attend.

Revival Planned By Wise Mill

There will be a revival at Wise Mill Assembly of God Church the week of April 22-29 with the Rev. T. C. Hardy, of the First Assembly of God Church of Dothan, Alabama speaking.
